

FIERCE BATTLE IN UTAH JAIL

Two Convicts Under a Death Sentence Secure Their Liberty in Bloody Battle.

ONE MAN KILLED

Three Others Wounded from Guns in the Hands of Guards—One Guard Was Injured.

(Special by Scripps-Mellae.) Salt Lake City, Utah, Oct. 10.—Convicts in the Utah state penitentiary made a well planned and partly successful attempt to escape. As a result one convict was killed by a shot from a guard, three other convicts were wounded, a guard was wounded by a shot, another man was beaten into insensibility, and two convicts under death sentence escaped.

The dead convict is Frank Dayton, who was serving a twelve year term for attempted highway robbery. Those who escaped are Nick Haworth and James Lynch, both murderers under death sentences.

Attack the Guards. The outbreak took place about 6:30 p. m. just as the prisoners were being placed in their cells for the night by Guards Wilkins and Jacobs. Two of the prisoners suddenly sprang on Wilkins and Jacobs and overpowered them. Wilkins was shot and Jacobs was killed. The convicts took the prison keys from the guards and released five other prisoners. The seven then compelled Guard Wilkins, notwithstanding his injuries, to march at their head, and with the assistance of ladders found near the workshop, they proceeded to scale the wall. Wilkins was made to ascend first.

Sounds General Alarm. As the first convict reached the top, Guard Naylor, who was on the south wall, opened fire. This gave the general alarm and several guards seized their guns and hastened to the scene. Guard Briggs reached the wall just as Convict Dayton and Ed Mullan were descending on the outside. He ordered them to halt, and then fired, killing Dayton. A second shot struck Mullan in the leg and he dropped to the ground, his body falling over the body of Dayton.

Pose in Pursuit. The other five convicts succeeded in getting outside the wall when they were fired upon. Abe Mayors, a life term murderer, was shot in the arm. Nick Haworth also was shot, but he continued his flight. Harry Waddell was shot in the leg, but Lynch escaped.

LITTLE CHANCE FOR NEW MONETARY LAWS

Congressman Cannon Declares There Is Much Divergence of Opinion Regarding Legislation.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 10.—Congressman Cannon of Illinois, who is conceded to be the next speaker of the house, spent a day in Omaha visiting friends. Of the prospect for financial legislation he said: "I do not anticipate there will be any financial legislation enacted at the coming session of congress, though undoubtedly there will be considerable debate on the question. In the first place, it is on the eve of a presidential election and unless it is a matter of extreme urgency important legislation is seldom undertaken pending such a campaign.

MURDER MAN ON TOP OF A CAR

KINDNESS TO TRAMP BRINGS HANDSOME SUM

Woman Collects On Note Given by Eccentric Man, Whose Frozen Feet She Bandaged.

(Special by Scripps-Mellae.)

Utica, N. Y., Oct. 10.—On Christmas eve, 1878, George W. Todd, familiarly called "Long Todd," an eccentric individual who died last April leaving $50,000, gave a note for $5,000 to Miss Jennie Crawford of West Schuyler, near here, who was then in her teens. In return for her bandaging his frozen feet and giving him a new pair of socks. The note read as follows: "West Schuyler, Dec. 24.—I promise to Jennie Crawford $5,000 when I die and George Crawford $5,000. I give Jennie Yarwood $1 for socks to-night. "George W. Todd."

At the time it was not known that "Long Todd" was wealthy, as he tramped around the Eastern states and Canada, pushing a wheelbarrow in summer and hauling a sled in winter. He lived on what he could beg, and clothed himself in scantiest raiment.

Miss Crawford gave little thought to the note given her by Todd until he died last spring and bank books found in his possession showed him to be worth about $50,000. She immediately sued his estate for the amount of the note and interest thereon from the date of Todd's death. In the Supreme court at Rome a jury awarded her $5,150.

BASKET WEAVING IS SUCCESSFUL

Studied at the City Schools During the Past Year—Weaving Done with Palm Bark.

For the last year basket weaving has been carried on successfully and with much enthusiasm on the part of the pupils at the schools of the city. It is in line with manual training and is practical as well as fascinating and is being introduced almost as widely as the ward schools as the manual training department is. In the high schools, of the country. Leading educators say that this work settles many hitherto unsolved problems in the school. The baskets and other articles made are woven from a material called raffa. This comes from Madagascar, and is the bark of a palm. The weaving of small baskets, hats, mats and other articles is now being carried on now in the Janesville schools. The work is claimed to be beneficial to the pupils for various reasons. It teaches them to use their hands with ease, and some teachers say that the pupils become so interested that it almost eliminates the problem of discipline.

PUZZLE PICTURE—FIND YOUR UNCLE

RUSSIA TALKS OF A BIG CONFLICT

ST. PETERSBURG PAPERS ARE EXTREMELY BELICOSE NOW.

THEY ARE NOW AFTER JAPAN

Manchuria Is Part of Russia Through the Fighting Already Done.

(Special by Scripps-Mellae.) St. Petersburg, Oct. 10.—Local newspapers are publishing very bellicose articles regarding the situation in Korea and Manchuria. Japan is belittled and the power of Russia magnified to a large extent. War is the sentiment of articles.

OWN MANCHURIA

Manchuria is claimed by Russian writers through the conflicts that have already waged on its soil and the claim is made it belongs to Russia from the immense loss of life that Russia has sustained there in the recent war.

DECLARE WAR

Berlin, Oct. 10.—Berliner Zeitung today publishes a dispatch from St. Petersburg, which states that Russia will declare war upon Japan tomorrow unless Japan alters her attitude towards Manchuria. The Cologne Gazette has an equally alarming dispatch from St. Petersburg.

OGDEN H. FETHERS EXPLAINS INCREASE

Cost of Living is Much Greater in Case of Sad Democrats—Nothing Left But Appetite.

"Some of the men who talked not figure prosperity rightly," said Ogden H. Fethers of Janesville to a Sentinel reporter, at the Pöster yesterday. "They leave out the sad case of the democrats in Wisconsin. Ten years ago they were state officers, congressmen, and held other good places paying from $5,000 a year downward. Now they have nothing but an appetite. I don't blame them for saying the cost of living has far exceeded the increase in income. There is a big difference between $5,000 a year and nothing, especially when you are compelled to pay your board in both instances."

Another meeting will be held next week at which time the class yell will be picked out. There are 165 freshmen this semester, and the girls far outnumber the boys.

AWFUL FLOODS THROUGH EAST

PHILADELPHIA, PATTERSON AND NEW YORK SUFFER.

MUCH DAMAGE IS DONE

Loss Likely To Reach the Million Mark Before Water Goes Down.

(Special by Scripps-Mellae.) Philadelphia, Oct. 10.—All through the east the effects of the great downfall of rain is being felt. This city is practically cut off from the outside world owing to the great downpour of yesterday's storm. All tracks are under water.

OTHER PLACES

Patterson, New Jersey, is suffering the same way. Floods have swept through the streets of the city making walking dangerous. New York is still suffering greatly. Seranton is also storm-ridden and the loss there will be very large.

IN NEW YORK STATE

Port Jervis, N. Y., Oct. 10.—The worst flood ever known in Delaware and Navesink rivers is on today. The largest portion of lower Port Jervis and the suburbs are under water. Hundreds were rescued with boats. The bridge across the Delaware collapsed while three men were on it. Two were drowned; railway traffic is practically suspended. Thousands of dollars' damage done.

SECOND CROP OF RASPBERRIES

Grown by Gust. Hilton, Near Janesville—An Unusual Occurrence.

Gust. Hilton, who lives on the "Buck Bridge" road is picking a few red raspberries from his bushes as a second crop. Several "second crops" of strawberries have been heard from in different parts of the country this summer but Mr. Hilton says that this is the first second crop of raspberries that he has ever seen and he has had many years' experience in growing this delicious crop. The many spells of wet and warm weather during the season just past is thought to be the reason of the continued fruit bearing of many of the small fruit varieties this summer. Mr. Hilton brought to this office a delicious cluster of the delicate fruit grown on his farm.

MINERS HOLD STORMY SESSION

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 10.—After a lengthy and stormy session the delegate convention of the Springfield district, United Mine Workers of America, which was called to consider the washhouse controversy, decided to reconsider the action taken at its former meeting. ROCKEFELLER'S OIL UP AGAIN

Third Advance in Ten Days Is Announced by Standard Oil Company.

New York, Oct. 10.—For the third time within ten days the Standard Oil company has raised the price of crude petroleum. An advance of 2 cents in the price of western crude oil and of 3 cents in the eastern product has been announced. This makes the price of Pennsylvania oil $1.65 a barrel, the highest figure it has touched in three years. The advance reflects the fact that little new producing territory has been found and it is made as an inducement to fresh field work.

PUNISH THE TEACHER FOR ILL-TREATING BOY

Found Guilty on Charge of Manslaughter for Causing Death of Lad Under His Charge.

Dalreuth, Oct. 10.—Andreas Dippold a teacher, was found guilty here on a charge of manslaughter for having caused the death by ill treatment of a boy who had been intrusted to his care.

Robert Koch, president of the Deutsche bank, placed his two sons, 11 and 12 years old, in the care of Dippold during the summer while Koch and his wife were in Paris. Dippold treated the boys with the greatest brutality, tying them by their hands and feet in bed at night and otherwise mistreating them. The elder boy ultimately died from his misusage. The prisoner was sentenced to eight years' penal servitude and ten years' deprivation of civil rights. Medical experts who examined him testified he was sane, but a moral degenerate. They said he was afflicted with a mania for blood, which could only be satisfied by inflicting torture.

The mildness of the sentence, which apparently was the heaviest that could be demanded, excited the spectators to fury. Men and women rose from their seats and threatened the prisoner. The indignation had been excited by the testimony of the surviving brother, who stated that besides flogging them mercilessly on every part of their bodies, Dippold kicked them and trampled on them with nailed boots.

CAPTAIN HILL VISITED THE CITY

Former Minneapolis Police Captain Spent Yesterday in Janesville.

Former Police Captain Charles Hill, of Minneapolis, was in the city Friday afternoon and paid a short visit to the jail and Sheriff Appleby. He returned from Minneapolis to his home in Milton Junction Thursday morning and will remain there until wanted in Minneapolis to answer to the indictments brought against him.

Captain Hill remained in Minneapolis for some days after his hearing to attend to business matters there and then came to Milton Junction. Owing to the notoriety that was forced upon Captain Hill at the time of his sensational arrest some few weeks ago his many friends throughout the country will be glad to know that he is thus far safely out of his troubles. Much opposition was made to his being allowed to leave the state of Minnesota but as his attorney told the court if he could not leave with the court's permission he would leave without it and so the Captain came home to his Rock county farm. He was very reticent to talk of his trouble and was in the city on business when he visited at the jail. Many of his friends in the county think he is not guilty of the charges brought against him and it was through the influence of his Minneapolis friends he was released on bail.

Captain Hill denies he ever left Minneapolis to avoid arrest and says that the story of his being sought throughout the west is all made out of whole cloth as the Minneapolis authorities knew all the time his whereabouts and could have written him to come back at any time and he would have gone.

TWO LEAVE THE POSTAL SERVICE

G. A. Christianity, Assistant to the Attorney General Resigns Suddenly.

PROBING CHARGES

Payne States That No Evidence Has Been Found Impugning Honesty of Official.

Washington, Oct. 10.—Two more vacancies have been created in the post-office department. G. A. C. Christianity's resignation as assistant attorney in the office of the assistant attorney general for the postoffice department, was accepted, and H. A. Castle, auditor for the postoffice department, placed his resignation in the hands of the postmaster general. Neither is implicated in the postoffice scandal.

Christianity has been on leave of absence since last April without pay and his resignation has been held by Postmaster General Payne since July 14.

Action Is Delayed.

The postmaster general, when he received Mr. Christianity's letter of July 14, took no action upon it beyond referring it to Assistant Attorney General Robb with request for advice as to the proper course to pursue. Mr. Robb's reply was not made until the investigation into the conduct of the assistant attorney general's office under Mr. Tyner had been completed. In reply he says:

"The investigation being completed, I now have the honor to advise you that, in my judgment, no evidence has been adduced impugning the honesty of Mr. Christianity, and that, therefore, there is no good reason why his resignation should not be accepted."

Reasons for Resigning.

In his letter of resignation Mr. Christianity gave poor health as his reason for wishing to retire from public office. He says that for many months before obtaining his leave of absence he continued at his desk against the protests of his physician.

Mr. Castle gave the urgency of private business matters as his reasons for giving up his office. In reply to a question as to whether his resignation had been induced by any charges connected with the investigation into the affairs of the postoffice department, he replied in the negative.

"I know of no charges," he said. "If there were any, I would not, of course, be allowed to resign. The only criticism of myself of which I am aware was made by Mr. Tulloch, and I made reply to his statement last May."

FIGHTS INDICTMENT.

Beavers Contends That Government Exceeds Its Powers.

New York, Oct. 10.—The habeas corpus proceedings in the case of George W. Beavers to determine whether the government exceeds its authority in causing indictments to be returned against him in two federal districts, Washington and Brooklyn, came up before Judge Holt in the United States District court.

Counsel for Beavers claimed that Beavers' apprehension under the second warrant, on the Washington indictment, was null and void because he was on bail at the time and asked that the proceedings in Washington be held in abeyance until the conclusion of the proceedings in Brooklyn.

In opposition it was argued that the apprehension on the second warrant was justifiable because Beavers was not under physical restraint at the time.

PLACE DRUG IN WATER AT CRIPPLE CREEK CAMP

Soldiers and Miners Are Seized With Cramps, But Doctors Save Their Lives.

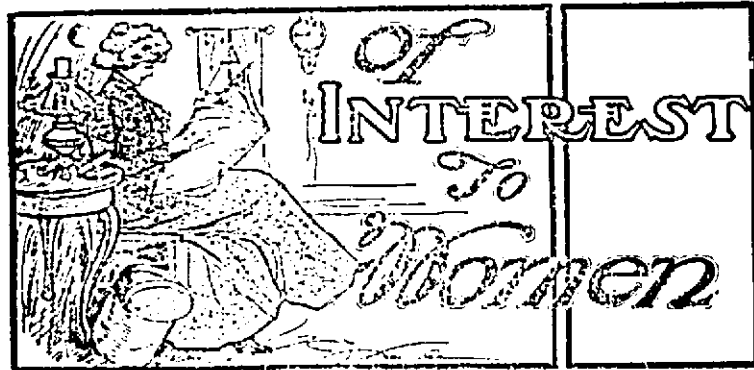

Cripple Creek, Colo., Oct. 10.—Sixty-eight soldiers in the garrison at Camp El Paso were made seriously ill by poison last Thursday. A drug is supposed to have been placed in the tank from which the camp obtains its supply of water for domestic purposes.

The camp, which is still maintained to keep order among the miners, is garrisoned by company D of Denver and company B of Pueblo, and is in command of Major Armstrong. The officers kept the poisoning secret, hoping to discover the guilty person.

Every man in the camp, excepting three who were absent, was poisoned, and became seriously ill with cramps. A corps of physicians was summoned and all men were placed under vigorous treatment, and all have now recovered.

Many of the miners who had access to the water tank were affected by the poison, which is believed to have been croton oil or arsenic. An analysis of the water remaining in the tank is being made.

AS SEEN BY ERNA S. MOTT

As the summer days draw to a close and the air holds a hint of frost one finds women scanning the pages of fashion magazines with the hope of finding an answer to the needs of her wardrobe for the coming season. Shopping is, at best, hard work and especially trying unless one knows just where to go. The prevailing fashions are many and attractive this season and hats and gowns are unusually becoming to all types of beauty. In my interview with a number of the leading dealers in millinery and ready to wear garments, I was shown many beautiful creations. As hats are about the first to make their appearance for the fall outfit, they should first mention.

Unique Shapes.
The shapes are entirely changed, more so than last season. Shades of browns from light to deep seal are seen and blue is taking second place very unwillingly. Of the entirely new shades, maroon and champagne are the favorites.

Large Hats with high crowns are a good deal shown, while in the East the colonial, boat shape, and military, all called small, but in reality very good size, predominate. Miss Wheeler displays some new and extremely attractive modes in all of this season's shapes.

One Special One.
A particularly noticeable hat, being a large Turban shape made of maroon velvet. The entire rim is draped with alternate strips of chinchilla fur and puffs of velvet. The crown being covered plain with velvet. For evening wears I find here a beautiful picture hat of white beaver, with a long graceful white plume running underneath the rim from the front backward, while the upper part of the hat is trimmed with large knots of the very new and swiftest of all trimmings—chenille.

Pleasant Parlors.
Miss Wheeler's display parlor give one at first glance, a pleasant impression. Dainty in all its appointments, one knows at once that it is under the management of a woman, and an artistic one as well. The walls are done in a paper of rather Moorish design and green prevails all through the color scheme. Twined about the gas fixtures are autumn leaves and berries. The large cases and other fixtures are of quartered sawed oak with mirrors every where. Hats are not left jay by day to grow shop worn and the window is retrimmed daily. This stock does not contain two hats of the same pattern. A fact which in a place the size of Janesville will undoubtedly meet with approval. In the cases are the new furs, mole-skin, the leader, ermine, gray squirrel, and mink. On the whole my visit to Miss Wheeler's store and my interview with the proprietor, was a great pleasure, which I should be glad to share with other Janesville women.

Coats and Suits.
The suits and coats this fall are especially swell, having a style and finish which can hardly fail to give the wearer the satisfied feeling of being well dressed. While the style and cut of some coats are a trifle trying to short and stout figures, still there are other coats equally fashionable and pretty which any one may wear. The Corset coat, for a Gibson girl, is ideal, but the three-quarter coat in suits or even single coats seems to be the favorite. It is surprising the number of exquisite suits which are shown at Simpson's in prices ranging from $18.00 to $22.50, in all some two hundred suits and these in exclusive styles.

Fine Material.
The materials are zibelein, men's suitings, novelty suitings and broadcloth. Here too one may find dainty separate skirts in dress style, elaborately trimmed or not as one's taste dictates. The walking skirts are beautiful, in novelty mixtures, medons, plain suitings and broadcloth, trimmed and stitched and all man tailored, with the close fitting hips and the flare at the bottom. Many are trimmed with strappings of the same fastened here and there with small tailor buttons. In the coats Mr. Simpson called my attention to a very handsome three quarter coat of Champagne zibelein with deep yoke and facing of stitched panne in a darker shade. Another not as dressy, but with all a more serviceable coat, was of navy zibelein in three quarter length with facings of stitched felt. Large gold buttons adorned the double breasted blouse front and set off, what might otherwise have been of too somber a shade for many.

New Auto Bags.
In buying all these many beautiful creations, one needs to have a large full purse, and the old one, with the new gown and hat will, of course, never do. F. C. Cook has the latest things in the purse line. The new automobile bags are very elegant affairs some four to six inches deep, with heavy ornamental tops and leather handles. They come made up in seals, walrus, and carved leather and are really very much the proper thing and then, think of the comfort and convenience of these for small packages. My interview here was long for a woman always appreciates the beautiful and Mr. Cook and his able assistants certainly show their goods in a most attractive way. Here I found dainty card cases in burnt leather, waist bags of seal, alligator, walrus and Monkey skin and as I turned towards the door, there were the beautiful new novelty toilet sets in the window. Have you seen the new Buck horn goods with their Sterling silver trimmings? One Buckhorn toilet set consists of three pieces, mirror, brush and comb which is not only handsome with the silver mountings shining up from the brown ground but give one an idea of durability and service.

For your new waists this winter, you need a set of those dainty shirt waist pins. These come five in a set, in Roman gold finish, Sterling silver French grey finish, also beautiful sets in pearl. While the new hat never will be complete without the sterling silver, French grey finish medallion hatpin. Every thing in silver novelties seems to have the French grey finish and very beautiful and delicate the soft tint is. Way not look up your first gifts now, when the stock is fresh instead of waiting until the days with cold and crush of the ever belated shopper? It is so easy—do it now.

Neckwear.
Fashion seems to be outdoing herself this season in minor details. Neckwear, for instance, has become more elaborate and therefore more becoming. In my interview at J. M. Hostwick & Sons' I saw some dainty new creations in ribbon and lace, studded with tiny cut steel beads. The silk hosiery stocks would gladden the heart of the lace lover. One beautiful new collar was of soft chiffon, done in the finest of lace applique. The shaped collars of embroidery are very new and desirable as they wear beautifully and can be cleaned many times successfully. A plain gown is often made to appear very dressy by a handsome stock. Hostwick is showing a beautiful and large line of very fashionable neckwear. Here, too, I find the flary wrappings for my lady with the delicate throat and after all what is more comfortable than soft folds of liberty silk or crepe about one's neck on a cold day. Some exquisite scarfs in Persian patterns are very much in evidence at present and they range in price from $2.50 to $3.50. The new liberty squares, displayed in a handsome case are very reasonable at $1.25. Lace striped scarfs are also pretty; in fact, everything in the scarf line is in vogue.

Gloves.
The hands are not to be slighted this fall as the gloves are to be more dressy than ever. The Peerless glove carried at the Hostwick store are always strictly in the mode and can be worn at any time with the knowledge of the correctness of their style. In a dress glove the Carlton holds a good place. Mocha gloves for cold days are really the only things and then they wear so well.

Golf Gloves.
The new patterns and styles in golf gloves will make them more popular than ever this season. There are mercerized golf gloves in plain colors and a beautiful silk golf glove entirely new in black and white only. Just seventy five cents. Then there are the plain hand fancy ones for a quarter. In evening gloves the newest and by far the prettiest style is the silk glove with the embroidered back. Sprays of white flowers and foliage lie gracefully upon the back of the glove and the effect is very good. Another evening glove comes in the form of the silk gloves with the lace top. These are especially nice for dancing parties and can be had in most evening shades.

The new cashmere gloves in black or white have beautiful plaid linings. The black ones are lined with bright plaid which gives them a warm look and the white gloves are lined in dainty colors making them dressy indeed.

With Planes.
With the return of the long winter evenings comes the desire for home entertainments some way to pass the hours in enjoyment to one's friend and oneself. There seems to be nothing so thoroughly entertaining and enjoyable to every one, as music, therefore the necessity of some sort of a musical instrument, my attention was called during an interview with H. F. Nott, to a handsome Arlon piano made in New York. The case is of that very popular wood—walnut and the instrument is in very good condition although it has been slightly used. Mr. Nott is making the extremely special price of $150. Some one will get a fine bargain if they go soon enough. Why don't you get it? You might also find a mandolin, guitar, or some new songs, any of which would be a pleasure at any and all times.

A GUARANTEED CURE FOR PILES
Hemorrhoids, Blind, Bleeding, Protruding Piles. Your druggist will refund money if PAIN OINTMENT fails to cure you in 6 to 10 days. 50c.

Don't neglect a Cough. Take Pile's Cougher Consumptive in time. 25c.

Florence Camp, No. 366, M. W. of A., will meet at West Side Old Fellows hall at next Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Root Vegetables Cheap
Parsnips, carrots, beets, turnips, and rutabagoes, a strong quintette of staple root vegetables, are now flooding the market. They are of exceptional quality this year and as the time is ready for putting in cellars the demand is somewhat brisk. Growers state that the yield is below the average in the case of all five vegetables. At fifteen cents a peck, 50 cents a bushel, prices are really low.

Potatoes Still High
Potatoes are ruling strong at 75 cents a bushel. Farmers complain that the crop in Rock county really warrants a rise to at least a dollar. Dealers, on the other hand, say that the excellent returns from the south and west bring the national yield to a point somewhat above the average. It is said that the tubers could be imported and sold at a substantial profit as low as 70 cents.

Big Western Yield
According to estimates that have just been issued by the railroad companies concerning the potato in the northwest this year, there will be millions of bushels for shipment. In Minnesota, South Dakota and North Dakota the crop has never been larger. Twelve towns in Minnesota will alone ship more than 1,000,000 bushels; it is said and these make about 2,500 carloads. The western states have begun digging in earnest.

Cranberries Going Up
The rise in the value of cranberries is due, it is believed, to the poor crops in the Cape Cod district. This crop, which is the general favorite for sauce at Thanksgiving time, is causing a great demand already, and the season has hardly begun. General prices are now ten cents a quart, although a sharp advance is expected in the near future.

Big pumpkins and small pumpkins that are the delight of the small boy during the long winter evenings, around Thanksgiving time and which make good "Jack o lanterns" and better pies, can now be found in every grocery store. Of course, the smaller pumpkins are the most plentiful and at this time are almost flooding the market. Most people say that there is little difference in flavor between the large yellow fellows and the small ones.

General Market Conditions
In the minds of most dealers in fruits and vegetables this is a trying period of the year in many respects. The general abundance of fruits which were so plentiful and also popular a month ago have become scarce and the supply is gradually lessening in some cases and in others almost gone. It will not be long now before the old standbys, bananas and oranges, will once more be about the only fruits on the market at present. The earlier kinds are now nearly gone, but their places will soon be taken by the artificial hothouse varieties always grown near the big cities. Another source of supply of these kinds will be the markets of the south.

Play for the McGiffin trophy cup at the golf links is creating much interest among the golf enthusiasts of the city. Yesterday afternoon despite the chill a good gallery of visitors saw Mrs. A. J. Harris and H. Ross King defeat Miss Mable Jackson and H. S. McGiffin three up and two to play. It was an exciting contest and full of interest to the spectators who braved the inclement weather to witness the semi-finals of the contest. On Tuesday next Mrs. Harris and Mr. King meet Mrs. P. L. Myers and Charles Dunn in the finals.

On Thursday, October 15, Miss Edith Dilzer will be married to Mr.

Last evening the charming home of J. H. Nicholson on Llan street, was the scene of one of the prettiest banquets that has been served in Janesville for some time. The occasion was the banquet in honor of the officers of the Central Life Assurance society of Des Moines, Ia. It was the closing of one of the most successful meetings of officers of any insurance company ever held. The beautiful home of Mr. Nicholson was tastefully decorated with autumn leaves, palms, cut flowers and trailing vines. During the five-course supper, that was faultlessly served, Miss Marjorie Nicholson and Mr. Otto Dreyer furnished delightful musical numbers on the violin and piano. Later Miss Gladys Nicholson rendered several carefully chosen and beautiful elocution selections. Dr. W. H. Bolton acted as toastmaster and his part of the post prandial feast of wit and wisdom was most tastefully accomplished. He is an able man and has a world-wide reputation for his wit and clever stories. The dining room was set in white with a large bunch of red carnations in the center and one at the plate of each of the thirty-eight guests, making a most delightful color scheme. The room itself had been decorated with leaves and vines and with the lights from above and on the side walls the cut glass and silver of the table service glittered with redoubled brilliancy. The menu cards were printed upon Crane's red linen paper. Bunches of American Beauty roses were on side tables. After the collation was served, Toastmaster Bolton called the guests to order and for two hours wit and mirth reigned. President Peake gave the message of the home office to guests and the other speakers were John P. Stake, national superintendent of agencies; M. C. Fagg, state secretary; A. C. Larsen, assistant general manager, and J. H. Nicholson, the host of the evening, who made the address of welcome. During the afternoon a very pleasant meeting had been held in the offices of the society in the Jackson block. The officers had been decorated for the occasion and President Peake of Des Moines and other prominent officers of the association made addresses. Among them was one by Mrs. S. D. Palmer of Tomah, state lady superintendent of agents. The banquet last evening closed the work of the convention.

At the Presbyterian church last evening the annual church gathering was held and the reports of the different church committees of the past year were listened to and work for the coming year planned for. The affair was a most enjoyable one and the large parlors of the church were filled with church members. The reports showed that the church was in the most flourishing condition and that all the branches of church work were productive of much good and interest. Mr. A. L. Fisher told of the work of the Men's league, what they had done and what they planned to do. Mrs. Edward Rager of the Ladies' Aid society; Miss Louise Hanson of the Sunday school, Miss Mae Clark of the Ladies' Missionary society and Miss Nettie Holt of the Christian Endeavor work of the church. Then followed an interesting musical program of six numbers. Mrs. J. G. Rexford rendered a vocal solo of most pleasing quality. Mr. Len Matthews also sang, as did Miss Louise Palkon. Mrs. Thurston Mason read a poem and Miss Pearl Willey and Miss Inez Williams, who has lately returned from an extended trip abroad, gave an interesting talk on the old world as seen through the eyes of an American traveler and Rev. Henderson made a few closing remarks.

Mr. Lawrence Curtis, U. S. A., and wife were in the city for a few hours yesterday en route to Mr. Curtis' army post at Omaha. Mr. Curtis is a first lieutenant in the Twenty Second regiment of Infantry and will go west at once to join his company which has been ordered for service in the Philippines. Mr. Curtis will be remembered by university students as the son of Commandant Curtis of the University Battalion. He was also a member of Co. G First Wisconsin during the Spanish-American war and was appointed an officer in the Twelfth regiment in 1898. He served with his regiment and the Twenty-second during the Philippine war and returned three years ago to this country and has been stationed at Ft. Crook, near Omaha. He was recently married in Washington to a prominent society belle. Mr. Curtis and Captain Thomas Richardson of this city are officers in the same regiments.

Play for the McGiffin trophy cup at the golf links is creating much interest among the golf enthusiasts of the city. Yesterday afternoon despite the chill a good gallery of visitors saw Mrs. A. J. Harris and H. Ross King defeat Miss Mable Jackson and H. S. McGiffin three up and two to play. It was an exciting contest and full of interest to the spectators who braved the inclement weather to witness the semi-finals of the contest. On Tuesday next Mrs. Harris and Mr. King meet Mrs. P. L. Myers and Charles Dunn in the finals.

On Thursday, October 15, Miss Edith Dilzer will be married to Mr.

Clarence Hemmens. On Wednesday evening last Mrs. H. O. Schmidley entertained in honor of the coming nuptials at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Knipp. The evening was spent at cards the prizes being won by Miss Dilzer and Mrs. William Hemmens. The affair was in the form of a china show for the coming bride.

A very cordial reception was given at the First M. E. church last evening to Rev. and Mrs. W. W. Warner, welcoming them in their return to this charge for another year. Special gratitude and love toward them prompted extensive preparations for the event. The decorations were never so pretty in the past, so said many, a profusion of flowers and autumn leaves filling altar, organ and platform. The ladies prepared dainty refreshments in the handsome church parlors where at the conclusion of the program, all joined in social fellowship and enjoyment. Special comment upon the separate numbers of the program can hardly be made as each number was a jewel in its beauty of execution. It is safe to say that a more complete, artistic, pleasing program never was rendered inside the church walls. The participants showed themselves artists and masters. The program was given as follows:

Overture, Felica by Prof. Lake's orchestra, composed as follows, violin, Prof. W. H. Lake; clarinet, G. W. Cronmiller; cornet, C. C. Olson; trombone, F. E. Kenney; pianist, Miss Gertrude Lake; address of welcome, Miss Myrtle Pantall; response, W. W. Warner; violin solo, Prof. C. E. Gill; Mrs. Gill accompanist; reading, Lady Clair, Miss Cora Wilhelm; baritone solo, Pierrot, Prof. Laverne Brooks; Miss Elva Crawford, accompanist; clarinet solo, Serenade and Polonnis by Mr. G. W. Cronmiller, accompanied by orchestra; reading, Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch, Miss Flora Rider; trombone solo, The Signal, by F. E. Kenney; Miss Gertrude Lake, accompanist; general remarks were made by Presiding Elder McChesney.

Captain Thomas Richardson, U. S. A., leaves in the morning for Little Rock arsenal, Arkansas, to prepare his company for their coming service in the Philippines. Mrs. Richardson will join the captain in San Francisco about the last of the month when the regiment starts for its tour of foreign service. She will remain some days longer at the home of Hon. Hamilton Richardson, 107 Prospect avenue.

The engagement of Miss Fannie Rumrill and Mr. Percy Munger has been announced and it is said that the wedding will occur before the holidays. Both the bride and groom are residents of Janesville and well known young society people. The ceremony will be performed at the residence of Miss Rumrill's father, Mr. George Rumrill, 152 Linn street.

On Thursday evening Mrs. J. G. Rexford was the hostess at a party given for the choir boys of the Presbyterian church. Games were played during the evening and dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

On Wednesday last Judge and Mrs. Charles I. Field entertained the Shakespeare club at their home 201 Jackson street. The evening was delightfully spent by the members of the club and light refreshments were served.

On Thursday afternoon Mrs. A. P. Burnham entertained at cards. Six handed euchre was the game of the afternoon. Miss Racine Hostwick being the successful prize winner. During the evening delightful refreshments were served.

Mrs. Charles D. Atwood and Mrs. A. J. Ward of Madison were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. David Atwood, 104 Park place Thursday and Friday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Richardson and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Robinson of Birmingham, N. Y., are spending the day at the Richardson cottage at Lake Koshkonong.

Miss Marcella Jackson has issued invitations for a dance to be held at the Country club this evening.

On Wednesday, October 14th, the wedding of Miss Agnes Gooden and Mr. Dan Leary will be performed at St. Mary's church by Rev. Father Goebel.

Mrs. John Winans, who has been visiting in the east for some weeks past, has returned home.

Hon. Charles H. Betts of Lyons, N. Y., and proprietor of the Lyons Republican, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hough, 50 Court street.

During the past week the Misses McGregor were hostesses at a party given at the golf club.

Mrs. Charles S. Putnam this afternoon is entertaining the Ladies' Whist club at her home, 252 Park Place.

Mrs. Margaret Eastman of Chicago is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Cunningham at the Hotel Cornueau.

SPECIAL COLUMN FOR THE ## Little Readers of The Gazette.

...A Legend of the Sea...
Even the waves were stilled.
It was at high noon of a sultry midsummer day, when the leafy boughs hang motionless, and every living thing of feet or wings or fins longs for a cooling breath of air—that an episode occurred which is here narrated.

Among the myriads of water drops that make the deep green path way for the ships, one weary of illness rolled over, and with longing sighed: "Nothing doing here but waiting."

The circling wave of unrest widened until it aroused the drowsy inmates of a craggy grotto and a rolling mermaid whispered: "All is right with the world,—look up!"

Greendrop looked up—far up into the sky, and beheld a fluffy white boat float on a sea of blue.

Oh, for a sail on a blue sea!
thought Greendrop. Whereupon, kind Father Sun, ever watchful, sent down his bright sunbeam inviting this restless atom to a journey through Cloudland in a phantom boat.

Up the shining ladder Greendrop climbed followed by a multitude of others, just as real children follow
a leader.

Up they climbed and filled the boat as full as it could hold.

On, on they floated over broad waters and towering mountains;
over desert lands and jeweled valleys; over busy cities and quiet hamlets, on on, never pausing now joined by other boats until a gray sailed fleet followed in its train: a fresh breeze blowing; faster and faster.

Dusky and dark grew the way till in the distance the shore of Shadow land could be dimly seen; when behold, from off that dangerous coast,
a huge black boat driven by a gale,
came swiftly sailing.

What a scene followed!

There was a zizzag flash of light and a roar of sound—the boats had met; they shivered; they shook and down fell the runaways some into the dusty street, some into rosegardens; but Greendrop fell among fern leaves on a wooded island.

There was haste to find a brook, or a streamlet, then a wild race to the river where all joining, on they rushed to the sea, singing "Home,
dear Sweet Home."

The drooping flowers lifted their heads in surprise. The withering leaves quivered with fresh life.
Birds flew from their places of hiding and sought the mirror pools to dress their plumage.

At the sound of music, one by one the voices of the ocean swelled the chorus till, finally, Neptune gave command for a reverberating jubilee of song, and through a rift in the clouds, God bent, over all, this rain drop of forgiveness.

Do you wish to hear that song?

Go stand, today, beside the sea and listen; or take the great steam ship out to mid ocean and hark! to the loud murmuring of the mighty deep
"Oh, the Homeland, there is no land
like the Homeland!"

Jack Frost's Visit.
"Ah! Jack Frost has been here!"
says Mr. Squirrel as he unwrapped himself from his broad tail coverlet.

...Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Saturday, October 10, 1863.—A steam fire engine ordered by the city of Fond du Lac, will arrive in this city tonight, and will remain during Monday. In the afternoon, about 2 o'clock it will be set at work and give our citizens an opportunity to witness its operation.

Massacre of Gen. Blunt's Body
Guard.—The accounts from Fort Scott represent that Gen. Blunt escaped from the rebels under Quantrell, but that 75 of his body guard were butchered in cold blood, after they had surrendered. It is probable that the most of these men belonged to the 3d Wisconsin cavalry as the commander, Lieut. Pond, and Lieut. Farr belonged to that regiment. The latter was their quartermaster and formerly practiced law in Racine.

When Jim Lane wanted to pursue and exterminate these wretches the News and the Patriot could not restrain their indignation. What do they say now, when Wisconsin men who enlisted in this democratic regiment, are cruelly murdered? Should Quatrell and the barbarous bushwhackers of Missouri be longer treated with "conciliation"? Let them answer. For our part we say, exterminate them. No war can be too radically waged against such villainous cut throats.

Fifty hundred hands are now employed in Colt's pistol factory, Hartford, and the production is about 800 arms a day, of which 200 are the rifle musket, and the rest different styles and sizes of revolvers.

Jeff Davis' Prophecy.—(From the Louisville Journal).—Mr. Jefferson Davis, in a speech at Stevenson, Alabama, in February, 1861, used this language:

Coming Attractions.

CALENDAR AT MYERS GRAND

Oct. 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, and 10—Flora De Voss in Repertoire.
Oct. 15—"Peck's Bad Boy."
Oct. 17—"The Gamekeeper."
Oct. 20—Richard Carle in "The Tenderfoot."
Oct. 21—Entertainment by local talent, under auspices of G. A. R.

"Your border states will gladly come into the southern confederacy within 60 days, as we will be your only friends. England will recognize us, and a glorious future is before us. The grass will grow in the northern cities where the pavements have been worn off by the tread of commerce. We will carry war where it is easy to advance—
where food for the sword and torch await the armies in the densely populated cities; and though they (the enemy) may come and spoil our crops, we can raise them as before,
while they cannot rear the cities which took years of industry and millions of money to build."

Such was the infernal spirit in which the rebel leaders inaugurated
the war. They expected hostil-ties to rage chiefly on federal soil, and their determination was to carry fire and sword wherever they should advance. If they could have made their way among the federal cities at the beginning of the war, they would no doubt have given them utterly to the flames. When Gen.
Lee succeeded at last in forcing his way to Chambersburg, York, Carlisle, and two or three other towns of less note, New Orleans and a very large portion of the southern country were in our possession, and the rebel dared not resort to the use of the torch, knowing what a terrible retribution could be measured out to them.

When Davis spoke of food for the sword as awaiting the rebel armies in the densely populated federal cities, he must have meant the massacre of unarmed men, for he cannot have supposed that it was in the densely populated cities that federal armies would be found. He uttered the feelings of the heart of a tiger, but that heart has often been made to quake fearfully since.

"Peck's Bad Boy." In three acts. The play starts in the famous grocery store, then to the hotel and the plein grounds at Clear Water Woods. The piece is lively and laughable, and the comedians introduce several new songs, always taking three to four encores, and keep the audience in a continuous roar of laughter all the time they are singing. Manager French has surrounded them this season with the best and largest company they have ever had, all the scenery is new and the costumes are handsome. The press throughout the country where they have been seen in "Peck's Bad Boy" are wide in their praise of the comedians and their new company;
Thursday October 15.

The popularity of the Alexander Bros. Minstrels was shown last evening by the size and enthusiasm of the crowd which made it way to Lake Harriet to listen to the performance. Since their last appearance at the lake the company has been very materially strengthened by the addition of the whistling duo and the Bernhardt Brothers. The clever feats of the gymnasts evoked much applause from the audience.—Minneapolis Journal, here on Monday.

STOCK TALK ON GENERAL MARKET

Daniels, Wells & Carpenter Report Conditions Existing in Chicago.

Cattle Our receipts of cattle last week amounted to 92,185, the second largest week on record, which was 35,524. We have had about 17,000 less cattle this week than last, up to this time, but all channels are so choked with beef that salesmen found it very hard work forcing any advance. Today the choice handy weights sold about steady but all other kinds declined about 10c, bringing prices back to the low level of last week, except on the few choice ones which are just a shade higher. The top today, as near as we can find out at this writing, is $5.90. Getting our letter out between twelve and one o'clock makes it impossible to be absolutely sure when our market holds until three.
Last we gave the top as $5.90 when there were two sales above that figure.

Butcher stuff sold about steady today but the demand was strongest for choice hinders and cows and export bulls. All other kinds meeting a more indifferent demand, particularly the bulls below best export.
The country seems to be full of butcher stuff and the outlook for another month is not very encouraging toward higher prices but prime cattle might sell some higher anytime.

Hogs—The predictions we made in the last two letters, that hogs were going down, were verified with a "sickening thud" the last two days, and it looks as if the end was not yet. Our receipts have fallen off some 5,000 this week, compared with the same time last week, but that has not helped stem the tide of decline a particle, prices today being 15c to 25c lower than yesterday and fully 50c below Monday.

The Fairbanks yard statement shows 243,325 tons, which is an increase during September of 32,253 tons, against a decrease of 22,275 tons in September 1902. That accounts for heavy hogs selling so much lower than light weights. At present prices of product for future deliveries, hogs should sell around $1.75, consequently, we are of the opinion that hogs will go still lower, probably down to 5c by the middle of this month or first of November.

Sheep—We have had a liberal run of sheep so far this week, about 100,000 against 90,760 last week for same period, and prices have suffered a decline of about 25c, the decline coming yesterday. Our market today was about steady with yesterday's close, which was the low point of the week so far. Our demand for feeders continues excellent but there are enough to supply it.
Feeding lambs are selling mostly from $4.50 to $4.65. Yours very respectfully,

Daniels, Wells & Carpenter.

TO ALL CATARRH SUFFERERS.

Hyomel Guaranteed to Cure by Peoples Drug Co. and King's Pharmacy or Money Refunded.

The popularity and increase in the sales of Hyomel are unique in the annals of medicine. Such astonishing cures have been made by this remarkable remedy that the proprietors have authorized King's Pharmacy and Peoples Drug Co. to sell every package of Hyomel under an absolute guarantee that it will cure catarrh. If it does not, the purchaser can have his money refunded by them.

Hyomel is no ordinary remedy. It is the only method of treatment that sends by direct inhalation to the most remote part of the air passages a balsamic air that destroys all catarrhal germs in the breathing organs, enriches and purifies the blood with additional ozone, and makes permanent and complete cures of catarrh.

The complete Hyomel outfit costs
but $1.00 and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the vest pocket,
a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomel. The inhaler lasts a lifetime, and if one bottle does not cure, an extra bottle of Hyomel can be obtained for 50 cents. It is the most economical of all remedies advertised for the cure of catarrh, and is the only one that follows nature in her method of treating diseases of the respiratory organs.

Breathe through the inhaler for a few minutes four times a day and your catarrh is cured. That's all.
If not cured King's Pharmacy and Peoples Drug Co. will refund your money.

OPPORTUNITIES NOT LACKING

Some one has recently written a scrap of history of a boy who advertised a second hand bicycle for sale. The next morning before 9 o'clock a customer called at the store, where he was clerking, and bought the wheel.

Before 10 o'clock two other prospective buyers called, and a little later, when two more came in, he said, "call in in the morning, my wheel isn't here just now."

A business idea had flashed into his mind, and that evening he advertised for two second hand wheels. He secured them in the morning, and sold them readily before noon.

Then it occurred to him that he might make a little money in handling second hand bicycles, and he continued to advertise until his employer objected to the store being monopolized with old wheels.

Then he arranged with a young man across the street who owned a little restaurant to help him out, and soon the business developed until the two boys became proprietors of an infant industry that in a few years made them a fortune.

The moral to this little sketch, is, "look out for opportunities, and grasp them when presented." The boy who started on a second hand bicycle, and laid the foundation for a fortune, was no smarter than thousands of young men, but he kept his eyes open, and when the opportunity presented, he was ready for it and it carried him out to the broad field of business possibilities.

There are thousands of men past middle life, and past the age of venturesome ambition, who bemoan their fate, because the opportunities which made other men successful, never came to them.

There is a large class of young men throughout the country who plod along year after year, performing faithfully the work at hand, but with no thought of bettering their condition by grasping opportunities that are all about them.

It is difficult in these days of business activity for boys on the farm to settle down constantly to farm life and work out a destiny as their fathers did before them, and so there is a constant stream of young men from the country to the city, all bent on trying their hand at commercial life.

From the care free life of the farm where every man is his "brothers equal, they are speedily lost in the maelstrom of the city, where men lose identity and sacrifice personality for a weekly pittance.

Unless they possess commercial instinct of pronounced character they will never be recognized on the surface. The way of opportunity for the average country boy who is willing to work, is not very far from the doorsill of the old home.

If he combines intelligence with ambition, he may have a farm and a home of his own before he reaches middle life, and while he may envy the boy who is measuring ribbon today at $10.00 per week, he will be in position to ply him a few years later when he drives his own span, and is independent, while his friend ekes out a miserable existence in trying to support family on $600 a year.

It is frequently said that the best business men come from the ranks of farmer boys. While the statement may be true, it is also true that the list of failures is never recorded. It is a good plan to keep in the channel of opportunity and the channel is never broader than when it flows untrammelled through the green fields of the country.

What is true of the country boy, is equally true of the boy in town. While it is an uncommon thing for a city boy to leave the city and take up agricultural pursuits the number of failures, to accomplish more than ordinary success, is more marked, and every town is crowded with young men who are satisfied with a cheap clerkship, and whose ambition is content with a meagre salary.

These boys usually marry while their faces are yet smooth, and the expense and care of a family takes every dollar that can be earned, and they are so absorbed in trying to make expenses, that labeled opportunities would not command attention.

Some one has said that it is a mighty poor woman that can't help support a man, and while the statement may be true, results are sometimes disappointing.

Every young man owes it to himself to be more than self supporting, before he assumes the cares of a family. The channels of trade and commerce are full of opportunities for bright, energetic young men, today.

They may not come to him in his home town, but he loses nothing in getting away from the nest that has sheltered him from boyhood, and striking out in fields that are more inviting.

The time for him to do this is when he is free from sentimental entanglements. There will be plenty of girls left after he finds his opportunity, and it won't take him long to establish a home, when he has a title to the roof, and he will find the encumbrance much more comfortable than a mortgage or a rent bill.

The young man who takes up a profession, is more likely to seek his opportunities before he seeks a wife because of the necessities of the case. Professional apprenticeships are not noted for salaries.

The large class of young men, who through choice or necessity take up industrial pursuits, are also in the channel of great opportunities.

The industrial world is calling for young men who possess both skill and executive ability. The call is so general that it may be heard in every community.

Any young man who enters this field with a determination to invest both brain and hand is bound to win. If he studies the interests of his employers, and is faithful and honest in his work, there is no power that can prevent advancement, and if he keeps an eye open for opportunities they will be discovered without the aid of a field glass.

It is not the lack of opportunities but it is the lack of ability to recognize and grasp them, that prevents so many people from winning prizes. The spirit of unrest and discontent, so prevalent today, will disappear when more time is spent in an intelligent effort to improve conditions through opportunities offered.

New York hotel men do not take very kindly to the raid of Dawleties to be made on that city next week. The army will be 3,000 strong, and Castle Garden has been leased for two weeks as headquarters. Hotels refuse to furnish accommodations and boarding houses will be pressed into service. The movement which is unique, will determine whether Tammany will be favored with a Zion city.

The color line has appeared on the gridiron in Indiana, and the game of football scheduled for today at Terre Haute, has been declared off because the Wabash team refused to remove a colored player. Indiana is the state that produced a chamber maid, who refused to work in a hotel where Booker T. Washington was entertained. The south can now make up another pursue for the college boys.

The New York Chamber of Commerce has adopted resolutions seeking to have the immigration laws changed, so that steam ship companies will not be permitted to decline as to qualifications necessary for admittance. An effort will be made to have them examined when they embark rather than when they land in New York.

It was a stand off between James Phillips, of Chicago, and his wife, Julia, as to who should support the family by betting on the races. While Phillips was preparing to go to the races in Cleveland, his wife went through his pockets and gambled on the turf in Chicago. She lost and now seeks a divorce.

Congressman Babcock is liable to find a candidate on every corner of his district. The state administration seems to be behind the scheme to bring out a candidate in every county in the district. In that case it will be Babcock against the field, and he will be a safe man to gamble on.

Ex-Lieutenant Governor Tillman of South Carolina, now on trial for the murder of Editor Gonzales, is a witness in his own behalf. About the only thing he seems anxious to prove is, that his victim refused to meet him on the field of honor.

Indictments are being freely issued against offenders and government employees, in the post office scandal case. People who have been free to criticize Postmaster General Payne may discover that he is very much alive for an invalid.

A war cloud is hanging over Japan and Russia and active preparations for an engagement are about completed. The bone of contention is Manchuria in China.

IN THE REALM OF MYTHOLOGY

PROF. WRIGHT TAKES THE ART LEAGUE ON INTERESTING TRIP.

HOW MYTHS ORIGINATED

Discusses Various Theories Entertained by Savants—Finds Answer in Little Child.

"How and when the Greek myths originated?" the question has been answered eagerly and too variously. The clue to the right solution of the mystery may be found wherever there is an unspoiled child. For the child is living over the lost history of the ages. For him the world is a live world. Inanimate objects have a personality and a will power of their own. His is a world filled with terrors. The sensitive, imaginative boy carries a fetish stone with a hole in it to bring him good luck. His sister has a rag of a doll which she refuses to part with. The girl holds a converse with an unseen playmate. Both step expectant into the oak grove. Both make incantations over a daisy and tell oracles over a dandelion. The children ask a thousand questions above the moving, rustling universe and believe any answer if it is interesting. If we should lose our mythology, it would soon reappear with Zeus as well as Santa Claus and all the other divinities.

The first lecture of the series to be given by Prof. Theodore Lyman Wright of Beloit college was delivered at the high school science hall at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The lecture was on "The Origin and Meaning of the Greek Myths" and was given under the auspices of the Janesville Art League. There was a good attendance and the discourse was extremely interesting and worth while. Prof. Wright gave his own theory and then entered into a discussion of the seven theories which he alluded to, collectively, as the "dry-as-dusts."

The speaker in his introduction justified a study of ancient man's love for nature, art and religion with the words of Wordsworth: "The world is too much with us—Late and soon."

Getting and spending we lay waste Our powers; Little we see in nature

That is ours—A sordid boon!"

The poet in his concluding stanza, after lamenting the tendency of the age towards materialism, eulogizes the idealism of the pagan Greek. "He seeks, as we must, for the beginning of these tales in a primitive age. Centuries before Pericles and Homer, before Athens was, among the old, old ancestors common to the Greek and Roman, some great stories were started that have been told and re-told ever since—but most beautifully by the Greeks."

In seeking for the origin of the myths the first theory to be considered was the one that traced their origin to early poems. The theory was an uneasy solution but not susceptible to verification. Euhemerism, a Greek of the second century B. C., taught that myths were but exaggerated history—that Heracles was a knight errant and Atlas a orionist astronomer. This process could be exemplified by the partly mythical personages which the Charlemagne and Alfred of history had become. But the element we are seeking still unexplained. Unfortunately for Euhemerism, the same adventures that befell William Tell in Switzerland were encountered by his prototypes in many different countries of Europe.

Next come the philologists. Max Muller ascribes myths to a disease of the language. Common names originally applied to objects in nature became the names of heroes in battle. The use of the same words they had employed in speaking of things for men and women is ascribed to a limited vocabulary. Certain philologists trace everything to the sun by the ingenious analysis of Greek roots they can demonstrate that Napoleon, for instance, was not originally a man, but the sun; Josephine, the dawn; and St. Helena, the holy afterglow. The linguistic solar myth is too easy.

Anthropology finds the seeds of myths in fetish worship. The efforts of primitive peoples to account for the strange objects they found in nature gave rise to certain stories. Barbaric tribes came to exist in certain types of beasts in which they felt a kinship, and in later days, forgetting their origin, applied the names to gods. Some of the animal stories of Kipling, Thompson-Son, and Jack London show how easy is the transition from animal to human and from human to god.

Each of the six theories enumerated contains a grain of truth. It is important that we recognize that the races of mythical times were child-like peoples that asked questions and answered them for themselves. They felt that all the world moved and had life, and discovered no difference in the emotions of a straying vine and an intoxicated man. The sky-dome was Zen, the keen air, Athena; the mist, Hermes; the darkness, Pluto; and the sea, Poseidon. The gentle flame was Vestia; the strong flame of the blacksmith, Aethes or Vulcan; the fire of autumn that covered the world with a splotch of red, was Bacchus. But when the countryman who found the keen morning air inspiration went to the city to forget the source and modelled an Athena in human form. Here, the little flame of the household, first worshipped as such, became a divinity—the pillar of the home—and was represented as a woman.

But the great questions which are of even more interest are concerned with what the myths are and what they may mean for us. Prof. Wright's next lecture will be given on December 11, on "Heracles in Art and Story."

FOOTBALL IN 'BELOIT TODAY

GAME IS ON WITH LINE CITY HIGH SCHOOL.

PLAYING IN EAST AND WEST

Prospect Good for Janesville Winning This Afternoon—Next Game Here with Geneva.

After a week of good practice and its preliminary game with Milton last Tuesday the Janesville team appeared to be confident of victory this afternoon, when at 3 o'clock they lined up against the Beloit high school team.

Beloit Team Crippled. It has been said that the Beloit boys have been having some rather hard luck. Their coach has been absent and this has somewhat affected their practice and Captain Gardner has been away from the practice work until yesterday because of an injured back due to a fall in a Rockford game. In any event the Line City boys will do their best to down Janesville.

Play Geneva Next. Next Saturday the local eleven will try the Lake Geneva team at Athletic park in this city and a lively tussle is expected for the reports are that the Geneva eleven is a husky one. For several years this team made an excellent record then they did not do quite so well for a time, but last year they joined the interscholastic league and from all indications, have a very strong team. The Lake Geneva eleven recently defeated Bloomington with a score of 39 to 0.

Same Line-up. The Janesville boys will line up practically the same as in the game with Milton, although there will be changes before the finish if the play this afternoon. The following is the line-up: C. Caldwell; R. G. Kennedy; R. T. Atwood; R. E. Clithero; L. G. Carle; L. G. Locke; L. E. Ryan; Q. B. Galbraith; R. H. Flaherty; L. H. Roberts; E. B. Millmore.

The game is now on at the Keep Athletic field. The following are the eastern and western games that are scheduled for this afternoon, and there is hardly a city in the United States but is interested in the outcome.

East. Yale vs. Springfield in New Haven. Harvard vs. Amherst in Cambridge.

Princeton vs. Brown in Princeton. Pennsylvania vs. State college in Philadelphia.

Cornell vs. Colgate in Ithaca. West Point vs. Dickinson in West Point.

SODA WATER IS NOT ON TAP

Certain Sign of the Approaching Winter, When Ice Cream Soda Can No Longer Be Obtained.

A certain sign of the approaching winter is the ending of the soda water season several fountains in this city have already been closed by the proprietors and the counters used to display the sale of other articles in greater demand when cold winds of the fall are blowing up the streets, than than walnut sundae and chocolate ice cream sodas. J. P. Baker was the first to put the "drug store bar" out of service and now the fair maids from Beloit and Rockford can no longer quench their thirst with those mysterious concoctions that are "perfectly delightful." Other pharmacies and confectionery stores have closed this department for the season of 1903, stored away their syrups cleaned out the fountains and put away the apparatus until summer breezes blow again.

A BRIGHT SIGN

A. McLellan Illuminates North Main Street.

North Main street is illuminated in a noticeable manner by a new electrical sign which has recently been placed in front of Alex. McLellan's place. It is one of the latest ideas in this class of work having in connection a motor which operates the lights so that they change every minute. Mr. McLellan's place has always been popular and the new device over the door indicates to his friends that he is thoroughly up-to-date in his business methods.

MISS GRANGER LEFT, FRIDAY

For Philippine Islands, To Become the Wife of Robert Black, Missionary at Davao.

It is a far off journey from Janesville to Manila to be married. A journey many a courageous hearted girl would shun. It may be compared to the early moving of our Puritan fathers from sunny England to the bleak shores of New England. Yet a Janesville girl last night began her trip from civilized Wisconsin to uncivilized Mindanao.

Left Friday. It is Miss Gertrude Granger, daughter of Mr. James C. Granger, 55 Washington street, and for some time a kindergarten teacher in the Washington school of this city, who is to make the trip, and Mr. Robert Black, a Congregational missionary at Davao on the island of Mindanao in the Philippine archipelago who is to meet her in Manila harbor and after a wedding on board the vessel she arrives on, is to take her a bride to his home—the far off east.

Well Known Here. Miss Granger is well known in Janesville. She came here in 1883 with her parents and then went to Milwaukee where she spent some years in study at the East Side High school, later taking up kindergarten work. Three years she spent at this and then went to New York where she taught in the Roger Chapel Mission school of the German Reform church. Here she met her future husband.

Was a Teacher Also. Mr. Black was also a teacher in the school and the romance which will end in a marriage in Manila harbor began in a dingy New York mission school room. Mr. Black will meet his bride on board the ship Siberia of the Pacific Steamship company on its arrival at Manila. They will be married on board boat and will land in the Philippines as man and wife.

The Trip. Miss Granger will visit with relatives for a few days while en route to the coast and will sail along on the steamer Siberia which is due to arrive in the Islands about the 20th of this month. They expect to spend Thanksgiving in the city of Manila, after which they will leave for the scene of their future work. Mr. and Mrs. Black will reside at Davao, a station in the southwestern part of the island of Mindanao.

Given Many Presents. Before the departure of Miss Granger, the local band of the Congregational church gave an entertainment in her honor and she was the recipient of many beautiful remembrances.

A Cure for Asthma

The worst cases of Asthma in the world succumb readily to the one great cure that never fails. Doctors seemed to give no relief whatever, and I felt there was no hope for me, when a drug clerk recommended your Asthma Cure. Its effect is truly magical and gives complete relief in from 2 to 5 minutes."

HIGH CLASS DRUGGISTS AND — OTHERS.

The better class of druggists, everywhere, are men of scientific attainments and high integrity, who devote their lives to the welfare of their fellow men in supplying the best of remedies and purest medicinal agents of known value, in accordance with physicians' prescriptions and scientific formula. Druggists of the better class manufacture many excellent remedies, but always under original or official names and they never sell false brands, or imitation medicines. They are the men to deal with when in need of anything in their line, which usually includes all standard remedies and corresponding adjuncts of a first-class pharmacy and the finest and best of toilet articles and preparations and many useful accessories and remedial appliances. The earning of a fair living, with the satisfaction which arises from a knowledge of the benefits conferred upon their patrons and assistance to the medical profession, is usually their greatest reward for long years of study and many hours of daily toil. They all know that Syrup of Figs is an excellent laxative remedy and that it gives universal satisfaction, and therefore they are selling many millions of bottles annually to the well informed purchasers of the choicest remedies, and they always take pleasure in handing out the genuine article bearing the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package. They know that in cases of colds and headaches, attended by biliousness and constipation and of weakness or torpidity of the liver and bowels, arising from irregular habits, indigestion, or over-eating, that there is no other remedy so pleasant, prompt and beneficial in its effects as Syrup of Figs, and they are glad to sell it because it gives universal satisfaction.

Owing to the excellence of Syrup of Figs, the universal satisfaction which it gives and the immense demand for it, imitations have been made, tried and condemned, but there are individual druggists to be found, here and there, who do not maintain the dignity and principles of the profession and whose greed gets the better of their judgment, and who do not hesitate to recommend and try to sell the imitations in order to make a larger profit. Such preparations sometimes have the name—"Syrup of Figs"—or "Fig Syrup"—and of some piratical concern, or fictitious fig syrup company, printed on the package, but they never have the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of the package. The imitations should be rejected because they are injurious to the system. In order to sell the imitations they find it necessary to resort to misrepresentation or deception, and whenever a dealer passes off on a customer a preparation under the name of "Syrup of Figs" or "Fig Syrup," which does not bear the full name of the California Fig Syrup Co. printed on the front of the package, he is attempting to deceive and mislead the patron who has been so unfortunate as to enter his establishment, whether it be large or small, for if the dealer resorts to misrepresentation and deception in one case he will do so with other medicinal agents, and in the filling of physicians' prescriptions, and should be avoided by every one who values health and happiness. Knowing that the great majority of druggists are reliable, we supply the immense demand for our excellent remedy entirely through the druggists, of whom it may be purchased everywhere, in original packages only, at the regular price of fifty cents per bottle, but as exceptions exist it is necessary to inform the public of the facts, in order that all may decline or return any imitation which may be sold to them. If it does not bear the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package, do not hesitate to return the article and to demand the return of your money, and in future go to one of the better class of druggists who will sell you what you wish and the best of everything in his line at reasonable prices.

AN INDIAN AGENT HAS GOOD PLAN

Would Install Miss Lo as the Housemaid in Wisconsin Families.

Major Campbell, who is the United States Indian Agent at Ashland, claims to have solved the servant girl question. He firmly believes that he and his wife have the best servant that ever was and advises his friends to try and secure one of the same kind he has. In other words Major Campbell has started an employment bureau for himself and has fifty copper hued damsels from the Indian tribe under him ready for service in real nice, kind, good, charitable families. No families who are not refined and cultured need apply as the major would not have poor Miss Lo learn any of the traits common to the American servant girl. The major so firmly believes in his plan that he has installed one of the maidens in his own residence and his wife reports she is well worth the $3.00 a week he pays her. Should the major's experiment prove successful these Indian girls can find a sure and steady employment the rest of their natural lives. There are any number of them on the reservations up north who would be glad of a chance for a home in a white family. These girls have all had from five to eight years' training in schools which give them the best of training for their work as cooks and housemaids in the homes of citizens throughout the United States. The days of the Indians with war paint and colored blankets is past and the redskins of today usually like his food cooked as well and served as nicely as does his white brother.

Gossip of Interest

Men.

North-Western Road

A full train of thirty-five carsloads of potatoes bound for Chicago was expected in the north this afternoon. Three cars containing large quantities of the rejected tubers were side-tracked early this morning and a crowd of children gathered around them shortly after daylight. Over thirty bushels were carried away in sacks and wheelbarrows. Meanwhile, several of the Janesville grocers have not a potato in stock, the recent rains making the ground too wet to dig them.

Locomotive 651 A. L. Wolcott engine, which was pulling the Belvidere time freight, ran into a cow a quarter of a mile north of Clyman this morning. A few slats in the pilot were broken and the engine had the appearance of the bloody car of juggernaut when it reached Janesville.

Clerk L. T. Matthews of the round-house went to Baraboo today.

Engineer Edward Carman went to Chicago last night.

Engineer Barrett is relieving Engineer Jessup on the Baraboo stock run.

Foreman Ellis and his crew of men completed their work on the three-slats at the roundhouse today. They will soon commence laying the paving blocks in the stationary-engine room.

Some of the old telegraph poles along the North-Western are being replaced by shorter and stronger ones. The old poles have not carried the twenty-two wires in a satisfactory manner during some of the storms.

St. Paul Road

The spectacle of thirty odd boys riding in from a football game at Monterey, on a St. Paul freight train this morning, was one not calculated to reassure dotting parents. The lads were hanging on in all sorts of grotesque positions, and some were clambering the tops of the box cars and others running along the roofs. By and by there will be a terrible accident and somebody will want to sue the railroad company.

Hundreds of tons of coal have recently been dumped in the ditches along the St. Paul road west of the depot. This means more trouble for engineers. Last winter the same thing was done and the coal was found to be in very bad condition and frequently the clay which had become attached to it choked up the flues. The reasons for dumping the coal there is ascribed to the large number of "penalty" cars which have to be dumped immediately in order that the road may escape paying a rental to the railroad to which they belong.

Engineer John Hangedorn has resumed his work on the Racine South-western passenger run.

Operator D. Erickson of the Big Four, stationed at Shelbyville, Indiana, visited friends in the city. He called at the St. Paul Depot today.

Engineer Pat Whalen resumed his run on the Mineral Point division today. He was relieved by Engineer Charles Warren. Dave Jones is driving for Engineer Whalen.
